Test Plan Assignment

DESIGN REVIEWS - INDIVIDUAL

During the first 45 minutes of each class, three groups will be randomly chosen to present their projects. Each member of the group will present one block that they are responsible for. Each person will have 3 minutes to present their block. The presentations will be scored. The only allowed visual aids will be the BeaverSource web pages. If at the time the groups are selected a member of the group is missing, they will be deducted 50 points.

Since the groups are chosen randomly, it is possible a group maybe asked to present more than once. If this occurs, the highest of the scores will be used for grading. The exception is if a group member is absent when the group is called. If by the end of the course, a group has not been called, a special session will be held for them to present.

50 points – Individual can answer all questions and presentation presents technical information.

25 points – Individual either cannot answer all questions or does not present technical material.

0 points – Individual cannot answer all questions and does not present technical material.
