Homework #0

Your Name:

Use reasonable search techniques to answer the following questions.

1. The term algorithms comes from my name.
   I am ________________________________________________________.
   My dates are ________________________________________________.

2. I'm sometimes called the godfather of algorithms.
   I am ________________________________________________________.
   My dates are ________________________________________________.

3. I invented the calculus and several useful algorithms.
   I am ________________________________________________________.
   My dates are ________________________________________________.

4. I'm usually given credit for the formal definition of algorithm.
   I am ________________________________________________________.
   My dates are ________________________________________________.

5. I'm often given credit for the first non-trivial algorithm.
   I am ________________________________________________________.
   My dates are ________________________________________________.

6. My name is associated with a rule which says how quickly computing power increases.
   I am ________________________________________________________.
   My dates are ________________________________________________.

7. I'm your TA.
   My name is __________________________________________________.

The search techniques I used were:

♣
◊
♠
♥

POLICY: No late homework accepted.