CS199 (Spring 2018): Thinking Critically About Data
Assignment #6

Date handed out: May 24, 2018
Date due: May 29, 2018 at the start of class
Total: 20 points

1. (10 points) Read “The Debunking Handbook,” by Cook and Lewandowsky, linked on the course website. In no more than 200-400 words, summarize the main points of the article. In addition, write a discussion question for the class.

2. (10 points) There are two articles from The Guardian linked on the course website. Read them both, and summarize each in 200-400 words. In addition, state your own opinion about the value and/or dangers of TED talks, and back up your argument with content from the articles and potentially other sources as well (this section should be an additional 200-400 words).